Mistrial is Won By Man Acting As Own Lawyer

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 25 — President Judge Hiram H. Keller in Common Pleas Court declared a mistrial when defendant, John S. Trinsley Jr., Humesville contractor, who served as his own counsel, informed the court that a mistake had been made in sending the wrong Philadelphia building inspector as a witness.

Trinsley is being sued by John M. Sarana and wife, 4322 Main street, Philadelphia, for $433. Judge Edward G. Blester declared a mistrial when the case was tried before him because Trinsley violated the rules of evidence and the case had to be continued until this term of civil court.

When Trinsley told President Judge Keller that Philadelphia had sent the "wrong building inspector," the court ordered the twelfth juror to step aside and a mistrial was declared.

Sarana and his wife allege Trinsley was engaged by them in September, 1951, to build an extension to the rear of their Philadelphia Main street property.

On Oct. 8, 1951, the plaintiff received notice from the Bureau of Building Inspectors that the new addition was condemned. The plaintiffs allege they paid $48 to have the extension torn down.

Illegal and Dangerous

"It was illegal and dangerous," the building inspector's report indicated.

Political 'Novice' Enters Race In Bristol Township

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, Sept. 25 — Elbert J. Kohli, 31, of 74 Shepherd lane, Levittown, a self-admitted political novice, has entered the race for township commissioner as an independent.

Kohli, who said he is registered non-partisan, explained that no particular political group is backing him.

"After the Levittown Civic Association meeting last Tuesday several of my friends and neighbors asked me to run for commissioner as an independent," Kohli stated.

"Duty to Run"

"I'm not educated politically," Kohli said, "and I'm not stumping for the job, but I feel it my duty to run if my friends and neighbors think that I should."

Kohli said his friends planned to put him into the race with write-in votes.

He said he was talking into running for the township commissioner post after a discussion to the effect that Levittown should be represented on the commission on the grounds that at present the township "can do away with our tax dollar before we have any representation."

Native Ohioan

Kohli is a native of Ohio and was brought up in Illinois. For 12 years before coming to Levittown he resided in Baltimore. He is an electrician by trade. He and his wife have one small son and a small daughter.

Kohli is administrator at the Levittown Civic Center, an unpaid post to which he was named by Edward Hough, president of the Levittown Civic Association.

Sven Nielsen Hits Secules' Statement On Dispute Costs

MIDDLETOWN TWP., Sept. 25 — Supervisor Sven Nielsen, seeking re-election as a Republican candidate, today charged an opponent on the Democratic ticket, Supervisor Raymond Secules as "taking cover under the pretense of ignorance."

His comment was evoked by a statement yesterday in which Secules, secretary-treasurer of the township supervisors said "obstructionists" pretending to work for the best interests of Middletown were causing it grief.

Secules said the dispute cost the township $6500 for legal fees, surveys and other items.

"It is very regrettable," Nielsen said, "that just before election time the secretary and treasurer of the township, who has been fully aware and approved of the various ordinances and attorney's fees now takes cover under the pretense of ignorance. It is in my opinion that men selected for the office of township supervisor possess mature thinking and are capable of rendering decisions in the best interests of the township."

"The street ordinance has been designated not in an effort to block Mr. Levitt or any other builder in our township, but to provide a measure of protection, in order that our taxpayers shall not be burdened with excessive repair after the builders leave our township."

NEWTOWN, Sept. 25 — A huge loss was sustained by fire on the farm of Mrs. Frank H. Russell, Wrightstown and Creamy roads, this morning at one o'clock. Flames levelled a large frame barn, and took toll of the contents — a large crop of hay and a hay loader.

The fire is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

The barn, which was L-shaped, measured 45-45 for one section, and 50-24 for the other. Located near the tenant house occupied by L. O. Kunkel, the levelled structure is about four miles from Newtown borough.

With wells and streams low, due to continued drought, firemen were hampered in their fight. They drew what water was available from a small stream nearby. Two fire companies from this part of Bucks county, including Newtown, were summoned.

Spread of the flames to other buildings were prevented by the fire-fighters.

The injured children were passengers in a sedan operated by Mrs. James E. Sullivan, 46, of Dolington, according to State Trooper John McDonough of the Langhorne Barracks.

They are: Patty Sullivan, 8, daughter of Mrs. Sullivan, who suffered bruises of the nose and upper lip; Cynthia Contant, 7, of Yardley, cuts and bruises of the face and left leg, and Adrienne Contant, 5, cuts of upper forehead. Mrs. Sullivan suffered cuts of the lips and a bruise of the chest.

Hospital Threats

Police said the school bus operated by Warren Buckman, 42, a Newtown RD 2 farmer, stopped to discharge two children. There were 45 in the vehicle. A car operated by Mrs. Zena Greb, 43, of Linton Hill road, Newtown, stopped directly back of the bus.

Mrs. Sullivan's car crashed into the rear of the car sending it to the right of the school bus where it struck a mailbox. Mrs. Sullivan's car bounded to the left striking the rear left of the bus, police said. Her car was demolished.

Actual value of his estate is not yet known, pending appraisal by the State Transfer Tax Department. It was formally declared to be "over $20,000."

Quonset Huts Suggested As Relief Measure

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, Sept. 25 — Members of the Bristol Township School Board and the Township Authority last night in Delhaas School tried to explain to some 30 persons representing PTA and civic associations why it is impossible to rush new school construction here even though the situation is critical.

J. Russell Straub, president of the School Board, in preliminary remarks, said the board was acutely aware of its problem. He pointed out that the township was jamming into three years growth that normally would cover 30 years.

He also said the board had received unjust criticism from several quarters and he was emphatic that "This board will not have part of any evasion or deceit."

Financial Picture

Jack Bradbury, representative of a financial consultants advising the board, drew a financial picture which school construction involves.

He said use of general obligation bonds is out of the question. Under an assessed valuation of $8,000,000 the township can borrow seven percent or some $569,000. However the School Board asked his firm to arrange means to finance $8,000,000 worth of schools.

This is being done through an authority plan through which the state reimburses the authority almost 50 percent.

Already the board has financed a million dollar school and has recently completed the financing of a 2 and 1/4 million dollar school. And last March the board asked its financial consultant for another 4 million dollar financing plan. This, reportedly, is for construction of an elementary school (Lafayette) at Laurel Bend, an elementary school on the Lancaster tract near Green lane, and a junior high school on Mill Creek road between Green lane and Edgely road.

Plans Readied

Architects plans are already being drawn up for the Lafayette school and the junior high school. School Board members indicated.

Bradbury pointed out the school district had received a federal grant of $276,000 to aid in construction of the Newportville School and that applications have been made for additional federal grants. He told his audience not to count on the grant because of a lack of federal funds for such grants.

Some members of the audience asked whether a new and expected higher evaluation of the township which may be announced Oct. 15 would permit additional rapid financing. There was no direct answer to the question except that the board could do little about it until the first of next year when the new assessed valuation would be certified.

Can't Hurry

Bradbury and members of the School Board tried to indicate that there was no hurry to process for straining new schools. Architects require laborious and long hours to draw up detailed plans, approval of plans in Harrisburg requires

Lotto and Straub Tangle on Floor Over 'Criticism'

BRISTOL TWP., Sept. 25 — Henry J. Lotto, Chairman of the Bristol Township Parents Association of Levittown, got into a verbal fight last night with J. Russell Straub, President of the School Board and Clarence Young, secretary of the School Board.

Lotto had been asking persistent questions as to whether there were any ways to speed up school construction.

Straub, with some heat in his voice, said, "You're trying to tell us and a lot of other people that we aren't doing our job right."

Said Lotto, "I didn't criticize—"

Before he could continue Young rose to his feet and said, "Now wait. You certainly did. Your letter to the governor criticized this board."

Earlier Straub, in preliminary remarks at an open meeting in Delhaas High School for discussion of school financing, said that board members had been getting too much interference from people about school affairs. "We deserve some respect of our private homes and private time," he said.

Later Young alluded to the interference. "We're always getting phone calls. People asking crazy questions the answers of which could be found in reference books."

Missionary Houseman was born in Russia. During the Revolution his father and mother and their ten children were exiled to Siberia. It was there where he went through the bloody scenes of revolution in 1917 and 1918. He relates how he walked along streets bespattered with human blood and gazed upon many bodies of innocent victims of the Bolshevik Revolution. In 1919 and 1920 he suffered with millions of others from the nation-wide famine, and saw thousands of people starving. During that time he lost both his father and mother, as well as his oldest sister and four younger brothers.
He relates that "while the evil spirit of Communism was hard at work, the spirit of God was not idle. Through all these sufferings a mighty Christian revival sprang up. Under deep conviction of sin, and touched by sufferings, men and women would fall prostrate before God on streets and in churches and homes. A mighty hunger for the word of God came over the people, for the Bread of Life, which became even more precious than the earthly bread. In many places this brought about severe persecution of the Christians. Then the Communists began to exile believers to Siberia and tortured others to death. But in spite of it all, the God-hungry Russian people are still stretching forth their hands to God and waiting for the American Christians to send them the Bible, the Bread of Life." Having escaped

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Acquaint now thyself with him and be at peace.—Jb. 22:21.

Job had to find peace the hard way. Not many of us have the afflictions and tragedies Job had to surmount, in order to find peace. No one need be friendless, abandoned, unloved.

AGAINST ICEBOX MENACE

Discarded iceboxes from which the automatic locking device had not been removed were responsible for the death by suffocation of more than 100 children in the last five years, according to a recent estimate by the president of the Refrigerator Trade Association. Yet comparatively few communities had taken preventive measures against such tragedies up to early last month.

Public attention was then riveted on the icebox menace by the deaths of 11 youngsters in three separate accidents within a three-day period.

To find out how deeply the snuffing out of these 11 young lives had impressed local authorities as to the need of action, the National Institute of Municipal Clerks undertook a broad inquiry. It was worth while, for it shows that the tragic lesson has had a nationwide effect.

Municipalities which already had ordinances making it a criminal offense to discard an icebox without removing the door or the latches have increased the penalties, and many others have taken initial steps to end the menace.

It Needn't Be New Gown Designer Says

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(INS)—Present in this corner today a remarkable woman to whom American husbands may well erect a monument after pondering the wisdom of her words.

Mollie Parnis, one of the nation's most successful dress designers, says:

(1) "Any woman over 20 years of age who wants to look like the cover of a fashion magazine ought to consult a psychiatrist, and

(2) "Any woman crazy enough to throw all her clothes away and buy a new wardrobe every season ought to be locked up."

These are immortal words on a par with Fred Allen's recent observation that some American husbands ought to go to Paris and shorten Dior.

But to get back to Miss Parnis: This designer says that no change in fashion should ever be so radical that this season's dress can't slide into next season and get lost in the mob.

The great knack is to make the 1949 model look like 1954," said Miss Parnis, a petite and pretty woman in a tweed suit that looked like the day after tomorrow but which she identified as strictly from 1952.

"No American designer wants to change fashions so radically every six months that irate husbands are gunning for him at every crossroad. Life is short enough without such occupational hazards.

"And furthermore," she added, harking back to the psychiatrist, "only a very insecure woman feels sure she has to have a new dress for every occasion."

The middle-aged matron ain't going to be mad, either, when she hears that Miss Parnis is convinced that no woman can be really chic or best-dressed until she is at least 30 to 35 years old.

It takes many years for a woman to cut her eye-teeth on clothes.

"To put it mildly, there is no question that the best-dressed women are always mature," she said. "Such women learn through the years to develop their own personality in clothes. Once they learn that trick, their clothes really vary little from year to year."

"If you look at the pictures of the Duchess of Windsor over the past twenty years, you will discover that her hats, her hair-do and the general style of her clothes have changed very little. The best-dressed woman always adapts the style to herself, never vice versa."

Money has nothing whatever to do with being best-dressed, in Miss Parnis's firm opinion. Mrs. William Paley, wife of the radio and teevee tycoon, a great American beauty and a perennial best-dressed, was every bit as chic when she was a working girl, says this designer.

"She never pretended to have money in those days," Miss Parnis recalled. "She was never wasteful or extravagant and she always bought with long wear in mind. She has always had a flair for wearing what is best for her, a gift which has nothing to do with money."

The same is true of another famous American beauty, Anita

Colby, Miss Parnis said. "Anita will buy a discarded sample at a bargain basement price, change it to suit herself and wear it forever, looking divine all the time."

As for the woman who is so immature she wants to look like the model on the cover of a fashion magazine, Miss Parnis not only sniffs and suggests a psychiatrist, but flatly says, "No clothes will ever look like that on a real human being."

Gentlemen: Paste that in your hats and Miss Parnis in your hearts!

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1953,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—President Dwight D. Eisenhower in his Boston speech laid the groundwork for a series of messages to the American people in which he will lay out in detail the perils of possible Soviet aggression.

In doing so, the President is yielding to a growing chorus of demands that the public be advised in detail on what this government knows of Russian intentions and capabilities.

Mr. Eisenhower will not, however, go as far as some calamity howlers would like him to. He has no intention, for instance, of disclosing details of our own arsenal, which he said in Boston is continuously being strengthened.

The Civil Defense Administration in its reports to the White House has spearheaded the demand that public information on Soviet potentialities be increased. CDA is alarmed at public apathy over home front preparations for an atomic blitz.

The issue, however, goes deeper than this and involves our entire system of weapons production and financing. To erect the kind of atomic bomb barrier some officials think we need, would cost as high as $35,000,000,000. And then, most military men believe, it would not be more than 60 per cent effective.

The problem the President faces is how far he should go in laying it on the line about the Russian threat. He certainly has no intention of panicking the American people; yet many in his official family insist that until the public is made fully aware of the danger, it will not approve vast new expenditures for defense.

What some of the President's advisers are talking about is not only a radar network costing billions but a complete burrowing in of defense plants and atomic installations.

Just to operate and man a radar network of such a complete type might require more human beings than now wear military uniforms in all of the services.

Another approach, reported to be the view of the National Security Council, is to spread out the details of the Soviet threat and our own defenses against it, and then attempt to obtain an effective international ban on the use of atomic weapons. There is a growing belief in Washington that the Russians might possibly be amenable to such a proposal.

Advocates of this view point out that the Russians did not use poison gas during World War II, largely, it can be presumed, because of fear of retaliation from the Germans, who were quite capable in this field.

In any event, Mr. Eisenhower is now embarked on a series of talks in which he will continue to point out the dangers of atomic attack. Public response to what he says initially will control further detailed references to the dangers we face.

The President and his military advisers in the Pentagon are satisfied with the rate of progress in building up our striking force. Defense, however, is another story. Air Force experts, for example, after exploring anew all the possibilities of defending the nation against sneak attack, admit that they could have been wrong in their previous estimates.

Your Birthday by STELLA

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25—Born today, you have a highly emotional nature. You must learn balance and control if you are to achieve the heights to which your talents should entitle you by right of birth. There is a real touch of genius within you, but it must be brought under disciplinary control if it is to function properly. Once you have learned this lesson, there are few heights in the arts to which you may not quite properly aspire.

You have been given the gift of expression but it is up to you to select the method you will use in conveying your original ideas to the world. You have very definite ideas as well as strong likes and dislikes. You are never one to compromise with life for the sake of getting ahead. You stand firm and make others come around to your point of view—which they eventually do, although it may take the greater part of your own lifetime to achieve your ultimate goal.

You have a great deal of self-confidence which is warranted, although you may have a great deal of contemporary criticism during your lifetime. The world is apt to challenge something new until it has been proved "popular!"

Probably you are one of those who will fall in love at first sight, and if you do not wed "this one person" you might never marry. However, it behooves you to "speak up" when this happens, for you will never be completely happy without your own family and your own home ties. You are not one to travel very widely for you enjoy your own hearth too much for that. Home's best as far as you are concerned.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Health comes first these days. Rest, relax, and let down tensions over this week end. Forget the office.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — You must take care not to be too adventurous some today. If driving in heavy traffic, be especially cautious.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Plan to get out into the country for a pleasant outdoor week end. It will restore your energies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Pile the family into the car and have a picnic outdoors, perhaps at the seashore. It could be fun!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — If you are "Mr. Fix-it" around the house, this may be the day to do those home repairs you've been postponing.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Maybe you need to be a "stay-at-home" today and get some chores done. Make an early start; then you can play!

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — If the weather is favorable you should plan a two-day trip for the whole family to enjoy.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Even if the family car is up for repairs, use public transportation. A trip will be well worth it.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Perhaps you can invite friends to your house for the week end and repay your social obligations.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — If you are in need of a spiritual uplift, then listening to a really good sermon might help immeasurably.

Need for Span Cited by Group

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25 — The construction of the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel in Falls Twp., has increased the need for a new river span, connection the Philadelphia area with New Jersey, according to a Delaware River Port authority.

A third crossing of the Delaware River is needed immediately to replace the Tacony-Palmyra bridge, and a fourth "probably will be required" shortly, Joseph K. Costello, executive director of the authority said. He added that motor traffic on the Tacony span has been increasing by two millions annually for several years.

The Tacony-Palmyra bridge is a drawbridge with a narrow horizontal clearance. With the increase in the number of vehicles crossing the bridge, traffic engineers have pointed out the potential bottleneck a drawbridge would create if it had to be opened frequently to allow for the passage of barges up and down the river.

A message to every prospective new car buyer:

You can have the most popular automatic transmission to be found in any low-priced car Chevrolet's Famous 1953 Powerglide!

Much fleetier, smoother, more economical! Thoroughly proved and improved through years of development and over a billion owner-driven miles! Production now running at new high levels due to record nationwide demand!

Much More Economical
Chevrolet's 1953 Powerglide Automatic Transmission—teamed with the 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" high-compression Valve-in-Head engine—brings you entirely new operating economy in city driving and on long trips.

Far Livelier Getaway
Put the selector lever in "DRIVE" position—step on the accelerator—and you move smoothly away from a standing start to legal traffic speed in seconds.

Important New Gas Savings
You'll never know how economical an automatic transmission can be until you try the 1953 Powerglide. Various improvements, including a more efficient use of engine power, make it extremely thrifty.

In fact, bring you the most important gain in gasoline economy in Chevrolet history.

Great New Passing Ability
The car picks up pace in traffic or on the highway at the touch of a toe, for the '53 Powerglide has an added automatic passing range.

Smoothest No-Shift Driving at Lowest Cost
Driving is almost unbelievably smooth . . . for this transmission gives simplest, smoothest, no-shift driving at lowest cost.

Safe Eyes-on-the-Road Driving
Safety is served in many ways. And one of the most important, perhaps, is that Powerglide permits you to concentrate on driving. You can keep your hands always on the steering wheel and your eyes always on the road.

Full Engine Braking-Power on Hills
Powerglide's flexibility lets you cruise easily up any hill. And you enjoy constant engine braking power for maximum safety when descending.

Rock Out of Trouble
Powerglide's smooth power flow lets you rock out of sand, snow or mud whenever the need arises. "LOW" and "REVERSE" are side by side on the Powerglide quadrant, making the operation doubly easy.

Push-Proof Parking
Put the selector lever in "PARK" position when you leave the car, and a positive gear-type lock holds it in position until you return.

Time-Proved, Owner-Proved Dependability
Come in. Drive a Chevrolet with this finer, more popular automatic transmission. Test it and you'll want it. It's time-proved, and road-proved by hundreds of thousands of owners, in over a billion miles of driving.

"BACK TO SCHOOL"

Yes, the days of reading, writing and arithmetic are here again. Principals and teachers are all bustling about getting the youngsters organized and settled in their different classrooms.

Now is the time to check your bus schedules carefully — there are long winter days ahead and why have the children standing on wet, windy corners.

Our obligation to you is to maintain these schedules and get the youngsters to school warm and comfy.

THE CROSS IN PRAYER

LET MOMENTS — Friday — GET A TRANSFER
"Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth." Col. 3:2.

Our affections include our intellect, our sensibilities and our wills; these must be transferred to the heavenly realm. It is God's design to have control of these in each individual life. God permits many things to come to us by way of these permissions being losses and tears.

But: If you're on the gloomy line — If inclined to fret or pine — Get a transfer. Leave the track of doubt and gloom. Take the sunshine track there's room. Get a transfer for the heavenly line.

If you're on the worry train Do not stay there and complain — Get a transfer. Cheerful cars are passing through. And there's lots of room for you — Get a transfer.

Jesus said, "Lay up for yourself treasures in heaven." Keep eternally's values in view and lay up treasures in the bank of heaven where no one can steal it. All we leave at death we lose but all we send on before death we gain and have for the life on Canaan's side.

several days, months or more are required by contractors who might bid on construction contracts to study specifications well enough to make adequate bids, the board indicated.

If plans were submitted hurriedly and the board received bids larger than the state permitted in given instances, the building program for the particular school would be delayed while new plans and specifications which would draw lower bids were made.

Levittowners who were concerned where their children would go to school asked whether the board might not persuade Levitt to construct buildings which the board could rent for school purposes and get under amortization plans.

Warriorettes Triumph Over Delhaas 5-0

Nancy Almond scored all five goals yesterday afternoon as Bristol High opened its 1953 Lower Bucks County Hockey League season with a 5-0 triumph over Delhaas High on the local field.

Almond scored three of her goals in the first half and the other two in the second.

Coach Barbara Yerkes started two freshmen in the lineup—Joyce White and Beatrice Massello, and both gave a fine account of themselves.

The Bristol forward line team work was beautiful to watch while Mary Gallione gave very nice backing support at center-half.

The wings, Marion Crosby and Jovina Diamanti, were playing their first game of varsity ball and passing with the rest of the forward line.

14th Season

Almond and Mary Lattanzi started their fourth season of varsity hockey. The latter was elected captain for the game.

Last season, Bristol won the Lower Bucks Championship with five wins and two ties.

TEEN-AGERS IN THE FAMILY?

THE BRISTOL COURIER

LOWER BUCKS COUNTY'S OWN DAILY

BRISTOL, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1953

GET ACQUAINTED!

Meet your neighbor in your area—Morrisville to Andalusia, Bristol to Newtown—in the special "Meet Your Neighbor" edition of The Bristol Courier, September 30.

PLACE NAMES In BUCKS COUNTY

Excerpts from the book of that name, published by The Bucks County Historical Society, an historical narrative compiled by the late George MacReynolds, librarian of that society, and copyrighted in 1942.

Eddington

Village in southeastern Bensalem Township, located at the forks of the Frankford and Bristol Turnpike (Route 130) and the old Dunks Ferry road. A writer in 1831 describes the village as "a thick settlement commonly called Jug-town."

A. W. Kennedy marks the village on his map of Bucks County, 1831, Dunksville, in honor of Dunks Ferry, founder of Dunks Ferry. Again on the Morris map of Bucks County, 1850, the place is called Oakgrove. If all these names are to be taken seriously, Eddington as a name for the village must be of recent date, but Eddington is by no means a name new to the locality. Richard Gibbs came from Wiltshire, England, to America in 1746 and taught school in Bensalem. Here he met Lawrence Growden, who gave him a clerkship in his office at Trevese. He was sheriff of Bucks County in 1771-1772. In 1770 he bought a large tract of land on the Bristol Pike, which he called Eddington after a place of the same name in his native county in England, where Alfred the Great defeated the Danes. The Eddington estate, from which the village takes its name, passed into the hands of the Rodman family after Gibbs' death in 1798 and now is the site of St. Francis Industrial School for orphaned Catholic boys, founded by Mrs. Edward S. Morrell and opened July 19, 1888.

Gibbs inherited a fortune by the death of his brother in England, became an ardent friend of the Colonies in the Revolution and loaned a large sum for maintenance of the army, which Congress was unable to refund. He married Margery Harrison of New York in 1753 and was the maternal grandfather of the late Judge John Fox, of Doylestown, Pa.

The Vandegrift family, very early settlers in Bensalem, coming from Holland, were influential in Eddington for many years. In 1870 no less than eight families by that name were registered from the village and vicinity. John G. Vandegrift kept a store for 50 years in a building that was very old. His ancestor, John Vandegrift, was licensed in 1744 to keep the ancient Half Way House. Charles S. Vandegrift, Jr., brother of John G. Vandegrift, was a prominent politician of State-wide influence and occupied a seat in the State Senate from 1883 to 1887. On his mother's side he was a descendant of the Richard Gibbs family already mentioned. He was one of a family of 12 children, 10 of whom lived to maturity and married.

Eddington has two beautiful churches, Christ Episcopal Church, detached from All Saints Parish, Lower Dublin Township, Philadelphia, was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. H. U. Onderdonk, Bishop of Pennsylvania, March 4, 1844. The rectory, near the church, was designed by Romulo Vazquez, of Holmesburg, Pa. Eddington Presbyterian Church is the outgrowth of the old Bensalem Church. Its architectural distinction is its Gothic tower. The cornerstone was laid in 1885.

FSA Schedules Drive To Clothe the Needy

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 25—A day-time meeting scheduled for 10:00 a.m., next Tuesday, has been called by the Friends Service Association at the William Penn Center, to launch a unique project of relief called Friendship Barrels. According to Kent R. Larrabee, Director of the Center, "Several residents from Levittown, Fairless Hills, and vicinity have already registered to assist with this program of mercy to those who are destitute because of famine, poverty, and human want. The committee, however, needs many more to do the job of collecting and processing used clothing from those who wish to share what they have with the less fortunate."

The meeting will begin with the sorting and packing of several boxes of clothing which have been brought to the William Penn Center over the past four months. After the hours' work project, there will be a business session to decide the following: 1. Where will Friendship Barrels be placed? 2. How local residents will be made aware of the opportunity. 3. What can be done to create a clothing storage room at the William Penn Center? 4. What day shall be set aside for barrel collections, sorting, mending and packing? 5. Shall the committee enlist the help of local children to collect clothing at Halloween time?

The committee expects to place an initial 24 barrels at strategically located homes in local neighborhoods. These homes will be collection centers for Friendship Barrels, to which neighbors will bring their articles of usable clothing. When the barrel is full, the volunteer worker will then call the William Penn Center to come and pick up the barrel and deposit an empty one.

Dr. Hanford is the brother of Thomas Hanford, Hulmeville, and the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Fabian, Bristol.

MEETING SET
The Bristol Township Teachers Association will have its organization meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 in the high school library. About 200 teachers from the high school and from the township elementary schools are expected to attend.

Really Pulling Up Stakes

THE HOUSE on wheels belongs to Mr. and Mrs. John Ksnyak, of what was once 84 N. Radcliffe st., and what in the future will be two broad ribbons of concrete when the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension winds its way through that spot. Mr. Ksnyak, perched by the door, said the operation was going on so smoothly that a full glass of water left on the kitchen table has not lost a drop. The building is being moved to a new site in Edgely.

Weighing Anchor

A WORKMAN prepares to remove the supports under the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ksnyak, after the house is lifted onto a moving trailer.

Increased Demand Brightens Outlook For U. S. Farmers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (INS) —The outlook for America's farmers brightened today as the Agriculture Department reported a sharp increase in livestock demand and grain exports.

Livestock prices held relatively steady during the past week as receipts reached their highest point since wartime controls were lifted in October, 1946.

Supplies of both grass and grain-fed cattle increased during the week. The movement of cattle from Western and Northwestern ranges was especially great, though marketings from Kansas and Southwestern areas was only moderate.

Cattle slaughter hit 402,000 head, compared with 313,000 head the preceding week and only 284,000 head in the corresponding period of 1952.

Calf slaughter also rose nearly 50,000 head during the week, and total meat production was the largest since January.

The department reported that demand expanded proportionately with increased production and that "liberal supplies moved readily with fairly complete daily clearances."

Arcuri Organizing Band in Levittown

LEVITTOWN, Sept. 25—Dominick A. Arcuri, 9 Cherry lane, head of the Bristol Township Elementary Music Department, has announced that he is organizing a municipal band for Levittown and surrounding areas.

The organization will give summer concerts, march in parades and will participate in other community activities. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the band should contact Arcuri.

Pa. Farmers Irrigate To Combat Droughts

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25—(INS) —Severe droughts during the past two growing seasons have sparked greater increase in irrigation of Pennsylvania farmland.

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service reports inadequate rainfall during critical parts of the 1952 and 1953 growing seasons has prompted many requests for information on irrigation.

Most queries come from growers of truck and canning crops but grassland farmers as well as nurseries have asked for information.

U. S. census figures show the number of Pennsylvania farms with irrigation systems increased from 84 farms in 1945 to 527 in 1950. Total increase in irrigation rose from 8,764 to 13,862.

Pennsylvania State College's School of Agriculture is conducting research to determine if it pays to irrigate.

In 1950, a survey of all known farmers irrigating crop land was conducted and nine out of 10 polled agreed that it did pay to irrigate.

Irrigation has been used successfully in the state on potatoes, beans, cucumbers, cantaloupes, strawberries, corn, forage and truck crops.

Agriculture experts at State College point out that to make any irrigation system pay for itself the crop for which it is purchased must be high in cash value, yield and quality.

The equipment, the experts say, should pay for itself within five years to be profitable.

Growing Womack Family Found Haven in New Levittown Home

By Barbara A. Zauner

Harriet and Grant Womack are busily enjoying their home at 77 Bald Cypress Lane, Levittown. So happy are they that Mrs. Womack took time off from her duties as a busy housewife and mother to inform the Bristol Courier just how much living in Levittown means to their whole family.

The Womacks were married on Valentine's Day, 1943. As newlyweds they'd lived in a three room apartment in Woodhaven, L. I., N. Y. The size of it was perfect, then, but when young Grant was born on May 17, 1945, and Jerilyn, their small daughter on October 17th, 1949, life became extremely crowded.

During the eleven years they spent in the small apartments, Harriet and Grant became authorities on "Why not to live in three room apartments with a family."

One evening, while reading a trade magazine, Grant Womack found the way to take his family out of their unsatisfactory surroundings. There was an article dealing with the U. S. Steel Corp., Fairless Works, which stated that they needed Diesel men. Since that was his line of work, he applied to the company. Some time later he was hired, and is employed by U. S. Steel at this time.

Then, having read of Levittown sometime previously, the Womack's at long last started looking at houses with the idea of buying their permanent home. They liked the looks of the Community that was being built. They fell in love with the Levittown No. 3 Model. The long awaited moving day was on March 16th, 1953.

Now well settled, they have the privacy of which they long dreamed. No more neighbors under their feet and no more over them. No more "shushing" the children for fear their little feet and joyful squeals will disturb the tenants. No more daily walks with the children for want of a back yard. As a child, Harriet had always played in a yard with her four younger brothers and sisters. Now, at long last, she has one for her children. They also are rid of the eternal stairs. It was tough lugging the groceries the babies, and the wash up and down and back up again day after day, year after year. The one floor convenience, the ample closet space, and the longed for appliances are truly appreciated by the whole family, Harriet in particular.

Their home, which is in the Birch Valley section, reflects the pride they have for it, both inside and out. Their carefully nourished garden lining the front walk is enhanced by a low white fence. Cheerful cottage curtains frame the front window. Their seven week old pup, "Tippy", happily gambols on the green carpeted lawn with the children. Pets were not permitted in the apartments.

The inside of their home is tastefully decorated, and much of it shows the personal touch and gleeful scrubbing of the happy housewife. Everything shines.

Now the children are leading the normal American life, and their parents are getting a big "bang" out of it. Young Grant, or "Buddy", as he is called, is the type of youngster who excels in school. He is in third grade at the Fallington School, and "likes reading best". His parents feel he's getting a fine education, and he is very happy there. At home he's "one of the crowd" of youngsters his own age. They have a lot of healthy fun.

"Jerry", a polite little lady, is a bit on the mischievous side. She likes to climb on things. Only three, she's an established member of the doll carriage set and has a lot of good times "playing house" with her many friends.

Grant and Harriet feel that they are a part of a very friendly community. Their neighbors are their own age and are helpful and enjoyable companions. When Harriet's family comes down from Long Island to visit, she says her neighbors are as happy for her as she is for herself.

Because of Levittown, their home, community living, and a modern shopping center the Womack family has found what they consider to be their ideal permanent home, the place that has fulfilled their dreams.

Mrs. Womack just had to write to tell us about it.

Rodeo Queen Beats Horse by a Neck—Autry Kissed Her

"A cowgirl from Brooklyn." That's Mimi Rohman, 19-year-old beauty who defeated 23 girls from five states to be named queen of the Madison Square Garden rodeo. Mimi tells in the following article her reactions to being crowned — and kissed — by cowboy star Gene Autry.

By MIMI ROHMAN
As Told to International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 — (INS) —This is the happiest day in my life. Ever since I was a little girl in Brooklyn, my life's ambition has been to be queen of a wild-west rodeo. I was very thrilled when they selected me as queen.

And to top it off, Gene Autry kissed me.

I was so excited it is impossible to express how I felt.

I was told later that was the first time Mr. Autry had ever kissed anyone in public and that gave me an extra thrill.

As the queen of the rodeo, I will wear a pair of mink jeans worth $2,500.

It breaks my heart every time I sit on them.

The mink jeans should be around my shoulders and I should be provided with an armed guard.

I would love to co-star someday with Mr. Autry in a western movie. He is such a wonderful gentleman.

And, if at the end of the picture the horse got the kiss instead of me, I wouldn't be let down at all, because I think as much of horses as Mr. Autry does.

I have owned many stock horses and have won a few rifle shooting contests, so I don't think I would be too much out of place in a western movie.
